Dear Authors,

I am the Editorial Assistant of the scientific journal WISDOM.

I am considering your article "PHILOSOPHICAL AND SOCIOLOGICAL NATURE OF THE INDONESIAN MAUBESI PEOPLE'S NATONI RELIGION" from the point of view of technical requirements of the journal. The final version of your article after reviewers' comments that I received still contains comments and other highlightings of the text. Please send me the last version of your article without comments and highlights so that I start my consideration of the article from the point of view of technical requirements.

Please, make all the improvements and corrections on the attached file of the article and send the improved version within three days.

Dr. Zainur Wula,
Here is the final version that I received.
I didn't attach it as I thought you had it and I just need to receive the final version without comments and highlights so that I can work on it from the point of view of technical requirements.

1	Perlu adanya fakta sebagai penguat dari sebuah pernyataan	"There is a belief that Aton (the Natoni God) will inflict disasters on a person who prohibits the Natoni and the rituals, such as the death of a family member or that person will suffer from diseases. For people outside of the Natoni, that belief is developed to preserve the Natoni teachings. The people outside of the Natoni regard the forms of disasters, namely the death of the family members or being inflicted with diseases as regular events, considering that every person will eventually die and people commonly suffer from diseases. They believe that there is no correlation with the Natoni prohibitions. But the real disaster is the emergence of conflicts or disputes between groups of there is a lack of tolerance. This principle is accepted by community members who do not embrace the Natoni religion. Thus, because of this tolerance, no conflicts happen as each religion has its own philosophies and teachings."	Revisi 1 pada bagian Discussion
